Thoughts for the Day

"Earthly possessions dazzle our eyes and delude us into thinking that they can provide security and freedom from anxiety. Yet all the time they are the very source of anxiety."

- The Cost of Discipleship, Dietrich Bonhoeffer

*"Why does man feel so sad in the twentieth century?
Why does man feel so bad in the very age when, more than in any other age, he has succeeded in satisfying his needs and making the world over for his own use?"*

- 1989 Jefferson Lecture, Walker Percy

*"A happiness that is sought for ourselves alone can never be found: for a happiness that is diminished by being shared is not big enough to make us happy. ...
True happiness is found in unselfish love, a love which increases in proportion as it is shared."*

- No Man Is An Island, by Thomas Merton

*10,000 Reasons
Come Thou Fount*

Prayer of Adoration and Confession* Laura Miller

God of grace and mercy, from the beginning of time you have given yourself to us. You breathed into us the breath of life so we might live; you walked with us in the cool of the Garden so we might know you; you gave us the great commands so we might comprehend your will; you sent Jesus our Lord so we might know your heart; you have sent your ever-present Spirit to lead us day by day. Thank you for pursuing us. Thank you for your constant love.

Gracious Lord, we confess that we often run from your presence. We have chosen loneliness instead of intimacy, sin instead of grace, despair instead of hope. We have gone astray. We need to be restored into fellowship with the one who created us. We offer to you the attitudes that cause our separation from you and each other: fear, anger, bitterness, distrust, ... Search us, O God. Cleanse us. Restore to us the joy of your presence. Empower us to live as you would have us live. Fill our hearts with gratitude for all you help us become. We give you thanks. In Jesus' name we pray. Amen.
