PARENT TIME: Ever have days when you feel like you've spent all your family time helping your kids get ready for what's next? "Get your shoes so we can run an errand." "Find your goggles for swim team tomorrow." "Is your backpack ready for day camp?" Sometimes simply maintaining every day life is exhausting. But there's something even bigger we can help our kids get ready for: hearing and sharing God's love. We're spending all this week talking about how much God loves each of us, and how we can be part of God's story. You can help your kids get ready by praying they'll be focused and attentive to hearing what God wants to tell them this week. (And by helping them find their shoes before they come.)
